

Classical Viennese Festival 2020 Participation Rules, Information, and Application

Overview

The Seattle International Piano Festival (SIPF) is proud to present the eighth annual Classical Viennese Festival for pianists and violinists. Participants of any nationality may participate. This competitive event was created to showcase classical and pre-classical sonata forms. Important for clarity and formal understanding, the sonata and related classical forms are often neglected or underrepresented in competitive events, and to provide performers with constructive feedback from performing and teaching masters. Participants will receive educational evaluations by performing for adjudicators, and a chance to receive certificates and medals during this competitive event.

This festival sets forth a number of age groups, as well as several narrowly defined performance categories so that they may be fairly judged, and generously decorated.

Festivals

The “Classical Viennese Festival” takes place at Forest Ridge School of the Sacred Heart, at 4800 139th Avenue SE, in Bellevue, WA 98006 all day on Sunday, March 15, 2020

Up to 4 minutes of music. Cost: $65

- (L) Violin — Choose one or more solo works by any composer(s) defined within the parameters of “Classical” era music, equal to or less than the maximum duration. The participant must use a piano accompanist for the festival if their performance selection contains piano collaboration (such as sonatas). Violinists may choose Classical concerti repertoire in addition to sonatas or other Classical idiomatic forms of the era. The pianist may either be a professional or student at the participant’s discretion, but may not be the student’s private instructor or coach. Up to 9 min of music. Cost: $80
- (M) Concerto — The concerto division for pianists is discontinued for the 2020 edition, but may return in future editions.

The festival separates all age divisions and groups into competitive and noncompetitive subdivisions. The noncompetitive subdivision has been created to encourage more participants who wish to pursue the festival for purely educational reasons, for a chance to receive feedback from adjudicators, or for those who may be participating for the first time in such an event. Noncompetitive participants may wish to use the opportunity to “wet their toes” with regard to a competitive experience, perhaps selecting a competitive option during future festivals.

Participants must be the required age as of March 15, 2020. There is no set limit regarding the number of students that a single teacher may submit. Likewise, teachers are in no way required to provide any volunteer assistance or pay any fee in order to submit students. Participants may choose to participate in more than one group; however, a separate accompanying application form and fee is required for each instance of participation.

Note that due to space limitations, applications will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis, capping the total number of performers to 220.

Ruling requests must be made before the application deadline. Please allow for 3-5 days for a response.

Participants must provide numbered measures, marked directly on the score along the left margin of each staff system. If the chosen literature is out of print, the participant must still obtain a legal copy if he or she wishes to use the work.

Day of the Festival

All participants should arrive at least 20 minutes prior to their assigned performance time to check in. Similar to other recent NW Festival events, participants will perform a self check-in. This entails:

- Orient themselves to the campus (A campus map may be found here)
- Ensure that original scores are ready, measures marked along the left margin of each line of music, ready to present to the adjudicator
- Note the specific venue for performance as listed in the announcement
- Arrive, quietly, in the performance space prior to assigned time (please do not enter or exit except during applause or breaks between groups) and await the adjudicator to call you forward

Performances will be held both at the Lee Theatre (building 600) and the chapel of Sacred Heart Center (building 700), as well as the choir room inside Lee Theatre (building 600).

No warm-up space will be provided at the festival site. Time will be added for instrumentalists to tune and prepare their seating. Violinists must also refrain from playing outside the performances spaces. Failure to keep the spaces near the performance areas silent will result in jeopardizing eligibility to participate.

Due to the nature of the event, we ask all performers and their families to help police appropriate behavior in and around the performance venues. Please enter and exit performance spaces only between other participants' performances or during applause. Door monitors may or may not be placed in order to prevent coming in or out at inappropriate times, therefore the SIFP relies on its participants to help enforce this rule. Participants should dress appropriately.

Prizes and Results

~~Within 20-30 minutes of the conclusion of a given category, participants are invited to return to hear the judges' decision downstairs in the Sacred Heart Center (building 700, the same building as the chapel performance venue):~~ Due to current health concerns and the safety of our attendees and organizers, the SIFP limits the amount of public congregation during the 2020 Classical Viennese Festival. As a result, distribution of awards will be conducting via mail to each participant's instructor, if available. Certificates, comment sheets, and medals will be mailed to the address provided. Within each category, a first-, second-, and third-prize winner will be named, along with an indeterminate number of honorable mentions. The judges will also be given discretion to bestow special awards of note to decorate a participant for an uncommon quality demonstrated in performance. These may include a "special promising talent" and other similar awards. Among the prizes are medals and certificates. All participants receive certificates of completion. In the noncompetitive divisions, the adjudicator reserves the right to award a star of special artist promise. The SIFP may ask winners to take part in fund-raising concert events in the future. Any invitation to perform is based on the discretion of the SIFP board, and permission of guardians of the performer as well as his/her instructor.

Each participant, his/her family, friends, and guests, and each teacher/coach must accept any juror's decision as final and unappealable. Attendees of the festival may not approach, engage with, or debate any aspect of the decision or his or her commentary with any juror, both before and after the performance event. Participants must furthermore treat the SIPF volunteers and organizers with respect, and may not debate or question results or commentary. Failure to adhere to this rule may permanently disbar the participant and/or all students of a participant's teacher from future such festivals and competitions. Refrain from speaking with an adjudicator, and keep at least 12 feet distance from the adjudicator's table.

Video or recordings made must be conducted by family members or friends of the performing participant. No such recordings are allowed of other performers from whom one does not have explicit permission to do so. Flash photography is also prohibited. To avoid distractions, all participants and their guests must silence all electronic devices that produce flashing lights or sound, including personal audio players, chimes on cameras, mobile phones, and portable game devices.

Any words of appreciation, complaints, comments, or suggestions may be submitted in written form and mailed to: SIPF, PO Box 3035, Issaquah, WA 98027-0136.
